DANCE HALL

In the Dance Hall, the theatrical decoration signed by Pascua Ortega, alludes to the parapets of the original boxes. It recreates operatic environments where costumes used in historical opera stagings are exhibited.

But the most decisive feature is the starry ceiling, its 630 fiber optic terminals reproduce the Madrid sky on the day the theater was inaugurated.

ORCHESTRA HALL

Clad in wood, it is enveloped by the curved surface of the roof. Large wooden umbrellas are deployed with the dual function of illuminating and softening the acoustic reflection, forming a space of singular architectural beauty, which contemplates the showcase of old Madrid through the colonnade of the Ópera façade.

Reserved until now for the rehearsal of the best orchestras in the world, it has become a unique and exclusive space to celebrate your event.
